Yoe Baseball Team Wins District Title

The Yoemen baseball team won the district title Wednesday afternoon when it slipped by Georgetown 4-2.

The Yoemen will meet Bastrop in bi-district playoffs, two out of three, starting Saturday night. The second game will be played here Monday night at 8:30 and the third game place will be decided on Monday night.

Coach Ernie Laurence said this is the first time to his knowledge that a Yoe baseball team has won the district title. The school has not had a baseball team in 10 or 12 years.

This team is a young one, with only one senior playing. The roster includes six freshmen, six sophomores, and four juniors.

District record for the team is 7-3, and season record is 16-5. In Wednesday's action, John Barron was winning pitcher striking out 13 batters. Losing pitcher was Robbins who was relieved by Almquist in the sixth inning.

Don Humble, Cameron attorney, was named chairman and Bennie D. Williams, Rockdale businessman, vice chairman of the Milam County School Board in a reorganizational meeting.

Humble succeeds John B. Henderson Sr. who served on the board almost 26 years and did not seek re-election this year.

County Supt. Max McClaren presented a resolution which was passed, commending Henderson for his service to the county school board. Henderson served as chairman for almost 20 years, the resolution noted.

J. D. Moore of Cameron was recently elected to the Board from Commissioners Precinct 2. Other members are H. L. McMillan of Thorndale and Willie Glaser of Buckholts.

At the meeting the board also approved school bus routes for all seven schools in Milam County, approved purchases of school buses for Milam and Rockdale, and conducted routine business.

Heirlooms Span 5 Generations

Antiques at the Norris Rogers home will be displayed for a Folk Fete tour in June. The house is not old, but there are many heirlooms that date as far back as five generations.

The Rogers have been in business in Cameron for many years. Mr. Rogers is a farmer and Mrs. Rogers is a cosmetologist.

One interesting heirloom in the Rogers home is the old sleigh bed which was made from a cottonwood tree about five generations ago. It was built by Dave Meyers, an uncle of Miss Lalla Meyers, who was a cabinet maker in Milam County at least 150 years ago. The tree used was cut from the Green Wilson farm which belonged to Mr. Rogers' great grandfather.

On the dining table is a lace tablecloth which is really a masterpiece of art, made from old lace from four generations of the family. Pieces of lace in the corners of the cloth are from the wedding slip of Grandmother Rogers, who was married Feb. 17, 1886. The intricate handwork includes tiny tatted edging, dainty flower baskets, and butterflies, each a marvel of hand construction. This cloth was designed by Mrs. Minor, Miss Katie Nisbett and the late Miss Jerusha Rogers.

In the bedrooms visitors will notice the unique hand-woven wool coverlets which were made in Tennessee before 1854 and brought to Texas by the family. The colors are still bright and true.

The old pigeon hole secretary is a family piece which belonged to the great grandfather. This piece is approximately 200 years old and is filled with many small compartments called pigeon holes.

Construction Starts On St. Ed Clinic

By Lloyd Albertson

Construction has been started on a new Medical Professional Building on the grounds of St. Edward Hospital - Rischar Memorial, Sister Mary Kostka, hospital administrator, said Thursday when announcing details about the new facility.

Location of the building is near the site of the old three story hospital building which was torn down several months ago.

A one story structure, and of ultra-modern design, it will be of steel frame, brick veneer and glass construction. It will be built in separate connecting units, each of which can house two medical suites.

At present, construction is underway on two units. A third unit is planned for the near future.

The building will face west and will have a parking area for automobiles in front of it which will be on the site of the old hospital building.

The two units of the building now under construction are called Unit A and Unit B. Unit A, the central section, is 52 by 71 feet with 3,500 square feet of floor space. Unit B, located south of it, is 52 by 52 feet, with 2,700 square feet of floor space.

Unit C, when it is built later, will be located on the north side.

Entrance to the building will be from the parking lot and along a walkway similar to that at the St. Edward Hospital. A partly enclosed foyer will extend across the front, measuring 140 feet for the first two units and 170 feet when the third unit is constructed.

Each of the units will contain two medical suites. The suites will vary in their arrangement, but will include a waiting room for patients, a business office, two or three examination rooms and a lab. Also they will have a utility room, rest rooms and a snack bar and lounge for the employee's use.

The interior of the units will be finished to combine the functional and the decorative. Some of the rooms and offices will be carpeted; others will have tile floors. The foyer entrances will be of ceramic tile.

Walls of some offices, rooms and hallways will be covered with a vinyl fabric. And wood paneling also will be used extensively in the interior of the units.

Cost of construction of the first two units of the building will be approximately $150,000.

Sister Mary Kostka, when announcing details about the facility, said: "Construction of the professional building is another attempt by the Sisters of Charity of the Incarnate Word to provide quality health care to the citizens of the Cameron area."

A SHARP Start....

A start on a summer recreation program has been brought forward by a proposal for special children's activities under a Texas Dept. of Mental Health and Mental Retardation program.

Called SHARP, it will mean a full-time director to supervise the program, assisted by two aides.

A varied sports and activity program is scheduled. It runs from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day at Ledbetter Park and some school facilities.

And this is fine.

Isn't it time the City of Cameron also institute a program in conjunction with this one for other students?

A summer tennis program can be renewed, but the facilities are limited for the number of students anticipated.

Two tennis courts are not enough. More than 80 students were out for tennis in junior and senior high this spring.

This is one of several things the summer program should include.

It is about time the city and school examine a year-round effort, sparked by this SHARP program, to make recreation a meaningful part of the summer for youngsters.

But it takes facilities, like those being developed for Ledbetter Park, and those planned for additional baseball diamonds and those needed in additional lighted tennis courts, new nets on the ones the school has and improvements which will provide all kinds of activity for the youth of the Cameron area.

Financing Folk Fete...

Folk Fete has raised about $1,600 cash or pledges in stock for financing the new edition of the annual community festival here in June.

This is a good start in putting it on a self-sustaining basis in finance and on a continuity basis with a board of directors chosen for one, two and three-year terms.

This festival is scheduled for the City Park and YHS Stadium again this year. Next year, it hopes to move downtown to the Mall area where open spaces would enable use of band shells and numerous other ideas for a major development of the program.

This finance program is important at this time, because Folk Fete has been going on a voluntary basis, workable but limiting the potential growth of the festival to the full-blown effort it should become.

It still draws 8,000 to 10,000 people in City Park, which is likely this June 9-10. And it will continue to grow each June thereafter.

She pointed out that the new building will help to improve health care service by putting physicians with in a few feet of their hospital patients. In addition, all of the hospital's laboratory, x-ray and other ancillary services will be available to the physicians and their patients.

Sister Kostka said also that the construction of the professional building next to the hospital and the consolidation of services will give Cameron its own "mini-medical center." And this arrangement should be an attraction to physicians and will definitely aid in recruiting medical people to Cameron.

Dr. Sidney H. Richardson will occupy one of the suites in Unit A when the building is completed. And Dr. C. G. Swift also is tentatively listed for the other suite in Unit A.

Dr. E. Douglas Perrin, a newcomer to Cameron, plans to occupy a suite in Unit B after he begins family practice here on July 3.

The concrete foundation for the building's Unit A has been completed and on Thursday the construction crew was getting ready to pour the foundation for Unit B.

Charles E. Hightower of Houston is the architect for the new building. And construction is by Urban Construction, also of Houston.

Edgar C. Blinn is the company's superintendent and in charge of the construction.

No completion date for the first two units of the facility has been set, due to weather and other conditions, Blinn said. He indicated, however, that it could be completed and ready for occupancy sometime late this summer if no delays were encountered.

Rep. Kubiak Requests Funds For Control Of Screwworm Fly

State Rep. Dan Kubiak of Rockdale today called upon the Texas Congressional delegation to take immediate steps to secure additional federal funds to curb the outbreak of the screwworm fly in Texas.

Kubiak in a letter to the delegation stated, "I am requesting that you take immediate steps to secure additional federal funds for sterile fly production at the Mission, Texas facilities as well as a northward movement of the barrier zone below which the federal government will pay 100 percent of the cost of fly drops on outbreak areas."

"I am now asking that the state increase its appropriations for fly drops above the barrier zone in order that the increased expense we have encountered this year may be met, and the screwworm outbreak contained as rapidly as possible."

Rep. Kubiak, a member of the House Agriculture Committee, has stated he and other concerned members of the Texas House will push for immediate funds to curb the serious screwworm fly outbreak which has occurred in Texas this year.

Dateline Austin...

State Warned About Hiring

AUSTIN State agencies received a recent warning to renew efforts to recruit minority group and women employees "before they are confronted with ultimatums and deadlines" from Washington and federal courts.

The agencies were reminded by the Governor's Committee on Human Relations staff that jurisdiction of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission has been extended to cover local and state governments.

EEOC will be giving "very critical examinations" to state employment practices, Committee on Human Relations Director James R. Ray wrote the agencies and departments.

Federal law goes farther than the state statute making it unlawful to discriminate against a person because of race, religion, color or national origin. The U. S. law also bars discrimination on the basis of sex.

Each state agency, advised Ray, will have to submit a detailed action plan to prove non-discrimination.

"In other words, you will not be able to prove non-discrimination without a federally-approved plan for recruitment of minorities and women for all levels of employment in your agency or department," the state units of government were told.

"Historically, the main concern of (EEOC) has been with numbers or quotas, and claims of recruitment difficulties have been summarily rejected as valid excuses," the Human Relations Committee staff maintained.

"Significant steps" were applauded within the state government during recent years to achieve equal employment opportunities.

However, department heads were placed on notice they must be sure each house "is in order and can stand the test (of non-discrimination) in federal court."

AG OPINIONS

County taxing bodies do not have authority to levy a fee on a mixed-beverage late hours permit and a caterer's permit for the first three years of a permit, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded:

* Creation of a salary grievance committee for public employees in each county is constitutional.

* The county tax assessor-collector is generally immune from liability on claims of third parties where title is issued in good faith and within the scope of his official authority under the certificate of title act.

* A Midland County domestic relations court judge is entitled to the same salary as that paid the 142nd district court judge.

COURTS SPEAK

Third Court of Civil Appeals held a full trial is necessary to develop facts for a standard by which Trinity River Authority can set a rate to be charged rice farmers for irrigation water from Devers canal system.

State Supreme Court upheld a lower court finding that the State Board of Medical Examiners acted properly in revoking the license of San Antonio Dr. J. J. Martinez for alleged sexual assaults on patients and an attempted abortion.

Third Court of Civil Appeals reversed a district court judgment that Nueces County Water District No. 3 has no authority to change the use of irrigation waters to municipal and domestic purposes for Robstown without prior approval of Texas Water Rights Commission. The Court also reversed a lower court decision that TWRC had authority to adjudicate additional water rights to the City of Corpus Christi at the expense of WCID No. 3.

COURT OVERHAUL RECOMMENDED

A task force composed of legal professional leaders, judges and legislators has joined in recommending modernization of the Texas court system.

The group, headed by State Supreme Court Chief Justice Robert W. Calvert, released a draft of its proposal at a meeting here. Highlights include:

Merging the State Supreme Court and Court of Criminal Appeals, giving courts of civil appeals authority to hear criminal as well as civil cases, merging overlapping district courts and providing a single district court with multiple judges for metropolitan counties, creating a statewide system of new county-level courts with judges who are lawyers to replace all present courts below district level, setting up a system of administration by a statewide administrator and deputies under the chief justice of Texas, selection of judges in non-partisan elections or by gubernatorial appointments and requiring that all judges be lawyers.

Guard Unit Going To Camp

Paratroops from Cameron's National Guard unit will "drop in" on Ft. Bragg, North Carolina Sunday, May 28. The parachute assault will mark the beginning of the unit's summer camp.

The 71st Airborne Brigade of the Texas National Guard, of which the local unit is an element, will train for 15 days at Ft. Bragg.

Local commander Lt. Darryl L. Pattillo, of Austin, says that he is pleased with the opportunity to train at Ft. Bragg with the 82nd Airborne Division, "the nation's" only remaining parachute infantry division. The 71st Airborne Brigade is the only reserve component paratroop unit in the United States.

Recruiting has been one of the primary goals of the Cameron unit this year. Lt. Pattillo is also the recruiting officer for all of Company A at Temple and Cameron.

"We are now open for qualified volunteers who would like to serve their state and nation right here at home," Pattillo said. "A young man can completely fulfill his military obligation as a paratrooper in our local unit and earn good money too."

"With the latest pay raises given to the armed forces a young man in the National Guard can make a substantial amount of additional annual income on a part time basis."

Young men interested in enlistment information should contact Sgt. James Cantrell at the Cameron National Guard Armory.

The all-electric patio.

What fun!

Electricity moves the family fun outdoors! Watch Dad don the chef's cap and take over burger-duty with an outdoor electric grill. Serve your supper guests sizzling steaks with "charcoal" flavor - without the charcoal mess! You'll like the accurate, oven-like controls that make roasting a turkey or barbecuing ribs so easy, too. And your electric grill cleans itself. You just set the dial, and grease and drippings disappear. Choose a portable or permanent outdoor electric grill in the style and size to suit your family. Keep your patio-party going after dark, in the gentle glow of a Reddy-Lite. It switches on at dusk, off at dawn, automatically. Has a weatherproof, convenience outlet, too, where you can plug in your TV, radio or stereo and yard-work helpers, like the electric lawn mower and hedge trimmer. And you can add glamour to a garden or special effects to a grove of backyard trees with landscape lighting.

Start spending your family-together time outdoors - with dependable, economical electricity. See your electric appliance dealer this weekend!

New Package Proposed To Show Bacon Slices

Ever wished you could see what a whole slice of bacon looks like while it's in the package?

A proposed regulation by the U. S. Department of Agriculture may solve that problem for consumers.

"The USDA has proposed that windowed packages of bacon show the full width and at least 70 percent of the length of a representative slice of bacon," said Texas A&M University foods and nutrition specialist Karen Kreipke. "This proposed change has come about because of repeated consumer complaints about bacon packages with windows showing only a small, non-representative slice of bacon."

The USDA worked with Mrs. Virginia Knauer, Special Assistant to the President for Consumer Affairs, in drafting this regulation which should improve bacon packaging.

Miss Kreipke, employee of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said that if the proposal is adopted, bacon packagers would be ordered to meet new requirements within six months.

"This would give packagers a chance to use their stocks of bacon packages and adjust their packaging process to meet the new regulation," Miss Kreipke said.

Consumers who want to comment on this proposed regulation should send two copies of their statement to the Hearing Clerk, USDA, Washington, D. C. 20250. Comments should reach the Hearing Clerk before June 20, 1972.

"So if you're a consumer who wishes to avoid buying a 'pig in a poke,' you can write and cast your vote for the proposed change in bacon packaging," the specialist said.

Doors Of Yoe

By Marilyn Hauk

Thursday morning a little long haired dog tried to come to school. Mrs. Miller turned around and there was the neighborhood dog hot on her trail. After she talked to it, pleaded with it, and made angry threats, the dog remained outside the building for the remainder of the morning. Perhaps Mrs. Miller, you need a refresher course in dog psychology.

Congratulations to our baseball team! Wednesday afternoon they captured the district title by overcoming Georgetown 4-2. Play by play action was brought to us via the intercom system. (When the plays were of great importance.)

Monday morning students of Yoe High, Ada Henderson, and Ben Milam were astounded at the sight of an Army Helicopter landing on our school grounds. Part of the Army recruiting system, it was enjoyed by all.

Union Head Raps Connally For Seeking Endorsement

Texas AFL-CIO President Roy R. Evans, said today that State Senator Wayne Connally sought the endorsement of the organization's political arm -- the same endorsement Connally now is criticizing Bill Hobby for accepting.

Evans denied there had been any "secret deal" made with Hobby for the support of the Texas AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE), as Connally has charged.

"Hobby told us that he is willing to campaign with and for all the Democratic party nominees," Evans said, explaining the COPE recommendation of Hobby. "He told us he would not seek to oppress the will of the majority as presiding officer of the Senate."

Connally, on the other hand has disqualified himself in several respects, according to criteria set by COPE for all candidates, Evans said. "First, COPE in its convention at Galveston voted not to recommend any candidate who would not commit himself to support the Democratic ticket in November," Evans said. Connally had refused to make that commitment and had told the labor group that among other things, he could not support Governor George Wallace of Alabama or U. S. Senator McGovern.

"Secondly, if press reports of Connally's remarks about labor are accurate, Connally might not be eligible for labor support, even if he were the nominee. Our COPE delegates instructed us to support the Democratic nominees, except those engaged in racist attacks and labor-baiting," Evans said. "Reports of Connally's public statements are a direct insult to the hundreds of thousands of working men and women of this state who are members of organized labor," Evans said. "Our recommendations to the members of affiliated organizations were arrived at openly and democratically. Senator Connally's criticism would be more properly directed at the lobbying representatives of railroads, chemical, oil and other big interests who decided on their own to make him the beneficiary of their huge campaign chests."

Thirdly, Evans said it has become increasingly apparent that the Senator's brother, secretary treasurer John Connally intends to work for the Republicans in November and may even be on the ticket with Nixon.

"Our membership has been seriously hurt by the economic policies over which John Connally presides," Evans said. "Our number one priority this year has been from the start to help get rid of Nixon. John Connally's position and his relationship to his brother lead us to believe the nomination of Wayne Connally would be a serious detriment in working for the Democratic ticket in November."

Bell Grand Jury Reports High School Drug Abuse

After hearing testimony from 36 students, nine administrators, and ten trustees from all public high schools in Bell County, the Grand Jury of the 169th Judicial District released a report recognizing that drug abuse is a real problem in Bell County.

The report said that dangerous drugs and narcotics are readily available to and being used by large numbers of school age youth. "The problem is very real and strikes youth from all social, economic and racial backgrounds," the report said.

The report listed chief causes of drug abuse as: Curiosity or experimentation, desire to be accepted by and be a part of the group, real or imagined problems, failure of youth to accept discipline and sacrifice as a part of growing up, and misconception that drugs can take the place of character.

It also cited lack of parental concern about, control of, and communication with their children; the necessarily passive position schools now take; and failure of the community to take vigorous action to stop drug traffic through their elected representatives and local law enforcement agencies. Recommendations included law enforcement, drug education, counseling and rehabilitation, examination of family life, encouraging communication between the young and old, and that schools and other public and private organizations be encouraged to continue or initiate varied activity programs.

The report concluded: "It is apparent that drug abuse is a very real and urgent problem in this county. Much work on many fronts will have to be done to remedy this situation."

Following his internship, he served two years in the United States Army as a doctor in Japan during 1946 to 1948. He then practiced as a family physician for one year in Dimmitt, Texas, then moved to Hamlin, Texas, where he has practiced for the past 23 years.

Dr. Perrin married Elaine Dellman, an Army nurse, of Sheffield, Pennsylvania, in 1948 while serving in Japan. They have four children. Their two daughters are both in nursing school, and their two sons are students at the University of Texas in Austin.

Hobby Predicts Victory In June 3 Runoff

Bill Hobby, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Lt. Governor, predicted today in Austin that he will win the run-off election on June 3.

Hobby said he believes the supporters of Senators Joe Christie and Ralph Hall and businessman Bill Jones will support him in the run-off. Hobby pointed out that "each of us in our respective campaigns has emphasized the great need for effective and enforceable ethics legislation and responsible reform in state government."

In addition, Hobby said, "Each of us has strongly opposed a tax on groceries and medicine." Hobby stated, "I will continue these efforts on behalf of these men in the run-off campaign, and I earnestly seek the help of their supporters to make these needed reforms and proposals a reality."

Hobby congratulated Senators Christie and Hall and Jones on the fine manner in which they conducted their campaigns by speaking to the issues and problems facing Texas and by not engaging in personalities.

With regard to the campaign, Hobby said, "I am very pleased at the results on May 6th and want to sincerely thank all those who worked so tirelessly in the campaign in an effort to bring a return to honest and responsible government."

Hobby concluded by saying that he would wage a positive and vigorous run-off campaign by continuing to speak to the issues and seeking solutions, but not engaging in personalities.

Petty, Allison To Finish In NASCAR Winston Race

COLLEGE STATION

It's not safe to predict too much about a NASCAR Winston Cup auto race. But if anything is predictable this year, it's that Richard Petty and Bobby Allison will be up there at the finish.

Four times in 11 races this season, Petty and Allison have wound up occupying the first two positions.

When Texas World Speedway hosts the Lone Star 500 on Sunday, June 25, at the halfway point of the 1972 Winston Cup Grand National schedule, North Carolina's Petty and Alabama's Allison could be among the top finishers.

Petty, winner of the $10,000 top prize in the first third of the Winston Cup competition, nosed out Allison at the checkered flag in each of his four victories. Petty was first, Allison second, in the Winston Western 500, the Richmond 500, the Gwyn Staley 500 and the Virginia 500.

Although Petty's four victories are high for a NASCAR driver this year, Allison - always one of the crowd favorites -- has two first places to his credit. Bobby scored back-to-back wins in the Atlanta 500 and the Southeastern 500. Allison also racked up a second-place finish in the Miller High Life 500, meaning he has run one-two in seven of 11 NASCAR Winston Cup attractions.

Allison drove his Chevrolet to third place in the first third of the Winston Cup competition, taking down a $3,000 prize for his efforts. South Carolinian James Hylton, who has been out of the Top Ten only once, was the runnerup to Petty. Hylton won $4,000.

Coming when it does, at the midpoint of the 1972 championship schedule, the Lone Star 500 at the two-mile Texas World Speedway will be an extremely important race for the Winston Cup drivers, most of whom are expected to compete here.

Petty won the Texas 500 here last December, with Buddy Baker finishing second and Allison third.

Lone Star 500 tickets, priced at $20, $15 and $10, are now on sale by mail (Texas World Speedway, P.O. Box 77840, College Station, Tex. 77840). Pre-race activities begin on Wednesday, June 21, with qualifying starting the following day. A special consolation race for non-qualifying cars is set for Saturday, June 24.

POTTERY construction will be demonstrated during the first Texas State Arts and Crafts Fair May 31 - June 4 in Kerrville. Potters will be demonstrating the various methods of pottery construction, as well as one very special kiln technique.

House Committee Passes Predator Loss Payment Bill

WASHINGTON

The House Committee on Agriculture approved today a bill to compensate farmers and ranchers for the loss of livestock and poultry killed by coyotes and other predatory animals.

Introduced by Committee Chairman W. R. (Bob) Poage D-Tex., and co-sponsored by several other committee members, the bill directs the Secretary of Agriculture to make an indemnification payment in an amount equal to the fair market value of the lost livestock or poultry upon verification by a Department of Agriculture representative of such loss.

Before approving the measure, the Committee amended it to provide a 5-year limitation instead of the permanent authorization embodied in provisions as introduced.

While no cost figures are included in the legislation, it has been variously estimated claims could run from $10 million to $50 million a year.

Testimony given the committee brought out that sheep and lamb losses to predatory animals in the United States in 1970 amounted to $17 million. There are also appreciable annual calf losses.

The coyote population has been reported increasing in recent years.

Passage of the legislation, Chairman Poage said, is warranted as a result of recent federal action prohibiting continued use in predatory animal control work of certain chemicals long employed in combating coyotes and other destructive carnivorous animals.

On February 8, the Administration banned the use of cyanide, strychnine and 1080 (Sodium Monofluoroacetate) poisons for predatory control operations on federal lands. On March 10 the Environmental Protection Agency suspended registration of these chemicals for predatory animal control work, thereby stopping interstate shipment of them for this purpose.

GAMES CANCELED

The game scheduled at Little League Field for the 19th and 20th have been canceled due to the high school team winning district.

THE INFORMED CONSUMER

BY CRAWFORD C. MARTIN
Attorney General of Texas

In the Spring many of us think about buying another car. Following a few simple rules may enable you to avoid disappointment when making such a purchase.

If possible, you should find out who previously owned the car. Go to him and ask him what he can tell you about the vehicle. Ask him for the actual mileage of the car.

The car's interior should be carefully inspected. Look for sign of wear and age. By all means the car should be road-tested. Listen for unusual noises. Does the car make smooth starts? Is the steering tight and even? Is there a quick engine pick-up? Does the radiator heat up?

Look under the vehicle for signs of loss of fluid. If possible take the car to a reputable mechanic for a thorough checkup.

When you see an older car with low mileage on it, be wary. Of course, some cars are driven only by elderly people to and from church and the grocery store, but not all of them.

When you have selected the car you want to buy, be sure you understand the purchase contract. Never sign one with blank spaces. Make sure you have a copy and question anything you don't understand before signing the contract.

Be certain all verbal promises are put in writing. If you buy on credit, be certain you know the full purchase price of the car and what the interest will be.

If you answer an advertisement, look for the car that has been advertised. Don't be switched to a fancy higher priced model.

Buy from a locally established or well recommended dealer. You should avoid being high pressured into a quick sale.

Never over extend your budget. If you do, the payments may turn that dream car into a nightmare.

Don't place too much reliance on the salesman's recommendations even though he is a "nice guy."

Following the above guidelines may not assure you of satisfaction when you buy a used car, but they certainly will help.

GRAIN STORAGE MEETING SET

Milam County farmers who are interested in storing their grain are urged to attend a meeting to discuss facility loans at the Community Center, 704 W. 6th St., Cameron on Tuesday, May 23 at 7:30 p.m. Donnie Bowman, price support program specialist from the Texas State ASCS office will hold the meeting.

TMA Begins Drive For New Budget

HOUSTON

An extensive public information campaign directed at the citizens of Texas and calling for sweeping changes in the Texas State budgeting system was announced today by the Texas Manufacturers Association (TMA), a group composed of over 6,000 businessmen and professionals.

TMA spokesman Dr. Ralph Wilson, Chairman of the Association as well as Chief Executive Officer of the Texas-based Ralph Wilson Plastics Company, stated that the 36 chapters of TMA located throughout the state held simultaneous meetings to kickoff the campaign.

Estimated attendance at the kickoff meetings was set at over 6,000, according to Dr. Wilson. Attending the locally held meetings were members of virtually every civic and professional group in the state as well as key members of the media.

Citing the need for a new budgeting system, Dr. Wilson said, "There are five distinct problems relating to money management in Texas: budget office duplication of efforts, excessive and non-restrictive powers of the Free Conference Committee, 'earmarking' of 80 percent of our budget, non-price tagging of proposed bills, and no provision for budget accountability."

Continuing, he stated that Texas' present budgeting system, adopted in 1949, when an annual budget of only $500 million existed, is totally incapable of efficiently handling today's annual budget of nearly $4 billion.

Dr. Wilson also stressed the necessity for acting quickly to improve state budgeting practices, noting that additional financial problems are becoming more critical and new ones are rapidly developing.

Senior Citizens Housing Patterns Are Different

"During May -- Senior Citizens' Month -- we're reminded about the needs of older people," said Texas Agricultural Extension Service family life education specialist Dorothy Taylor.

One of these needs is available housing. Suitable housing environments are especially important to older Americans as life space decreases with age, according to Miss Taylor.

"Low incomes, disabilities, a penchant to remain in their own homes and limited housing alternatives force many older families and individuals to live in substandard or otherwise undesirable dwellings and neighborhoods," the Texas A&M University employee said.

A 1971 study estimated that persons over age 65 spend about 80 to 90 per cent of their lives in the domestic (i.e., home) environment. Of all people only small children, the chronically ill and those institutionalized for law violation are as house and neighborhood bound as the elderly.

"Others have indicated that the life space of the elderly tends to diminish with age," Miss Taylor, Texas A&M University employee, said. "As energy and health decline, and financial resources shrink, countless numbers of older Americans limit the physical space they occupy to the neighborhood grocery store, nearby church and to their dwellings."

For the enfeebled and the ill, life space is reduced to a house or an apartment, to a room and ultimately to a bed within four restricting walls.

Miss Taylor said that the quality of the housing environment becomes increasingly significant in the lives of many aged families and individuals. And the quality of this limited world largely determines the extent to which they'll retain their independence. It also influences their amount of privacy, how often they visit friends, their sense of place or territorial ownership and their ability to exercise a measure of control over the immediate environment.

"Housing is often a major factor in the physical, social and psychological attitudes of older persons," Miss Taylor said. "One thing to consider in providing housing for the elderly is to provide housing consistent with a variety of life styles, rather than merely producing a large number of dwelling units."

Older families, as well as younger families, should be allowed to exercise as much freedom of choice in housing as possible.

Most older couples and individuals want to live independently as long as possible, according to Miss Taylor. Types of housing and social services will enable them to be masters of their own households and achieve independent living.

Draft Call Details Told

AUSTIN
Colonel Melvin N. Glantz, the State Director of Selective Service for Texas, is instructing Texas draft boards to issue induction orders to all 1972 first priority selection group men with lottery numbers of 35 or below.

Lester E. Hirt, chairman of Local Board No. 92, said six induction orders will be issued in Milam County. There are also eight men who will be issued orders for pre-induction physical examination soon.

Under the Uniform National Call procedure, the "Induction Cut-Off Number" was announced by Acting Director of Selective Service Byron V. Peptone. Induction orders will be issued to all fully acceptable registrants in the United States with Lottery Numbers of 35 or below who are members of the 1972 first priority group. This priority group is made up basically of men born in the calendar year 1952.

The Defense Department asked Selective Service to induct 15,000 men in April, May and June. The national director previously established a lottery cut-off number of 15 for April and May, and has raised the lottery number to 35 for the June induction call.
